WELCOME

Welcome, to the community of activists, ministers, professionals, evangelists, and students to journey together in a global virtual learning experience to get nourished, empowered, informed, and commissioned to partner with God in God's commitment to redeem the earth and the earth communities. Welcome to envision together the realization of a new heaven and new earth in the here and now, and to transform our faith communities into intentional communities of creation care and earth-healing.

This program is initiated by a global ecumenical fellowship and an ecumenical theological institution. Council for World Mission (CWM) is a community of churches in mission, witnessing relevantly and courageously in the context of Empire. CWM is committed to equip the churches to live out the subversive gospel through radical social engagement. The United Theological College, Bangalore, India (UTC) is a century-old ecumenical theological school that is engaged in the mission of equipping the saints for ministries of compassionate justice and radical transformation in church and society. This program emerges out of the common commitment of these two ecumenical organizations to enable the faith communities to engage in eco-justice ministries for the blossoming of life, exposing and confronting the powers and principalities of death.
